RFD356: MARKET SURVEY

After the completion of the first year, individual students are expected to conduct a market survey during the annual summer break. The survey has to be conducted as follows:

I. DESIGN
Retail chain stores for both mens and womens apparel:
Sportswear/ casual wear: Brands – Reebok, Adidas, Nike, Puma etc.; Product categories – jeans, t-shirts, casual shirts, trousers, shorts.
Study the above in terms of design features, colours, fabrics, design composition, embellishments, cost etc.
Indian wear- study in terms of styles, fabrics, colours, embellishments, cost etc.

9. FABRICS: Menswear, Womenswear, Kid swear. Sleepwear.
Study the above in terms of composition, colour, design and cost

• ACCESSORIES (Men and women): Bags – study in terms of material (leather, fabric, straw, plastic etc.), colour, design / style, cost etc. Footwear – study in terms of material (leather, fabric, straw, plastic etc.), colour, design / style, cost etc.

Apart from the above market survey, the students are also required to observe fashion in:

Latest films
Amongst youth - in colleges and university campuses
Public places like malls, fairs, exhibitions etc.

The students are required to maintain a field diary although the duration of the course, recording every detail and information observed and experienced during the course of the survey. The collected information should be documented through visuals, samples, comparative studies and analysis of the conducted survey.

RFD357: INTEGRATED DESIGN PROJECT-I

During the first three semesters the students have been exposed to various fundamentals of design and have therefore acquired the ability to integrate the learning to be able to conceptualize an idea and have the confidence to interpret the same into a product based on their personal design philosophy. The students have received inputs through various subjects like:

I. Design Philosophy – Concept Development: Computer applications – I, II and III. Craft appreciation. Material studies – I and II. Elements of design. Fashion model drawing. Communicating fashion. Design process. Dyeing and printing.

- Skills Acquired: Basic drawing. Material studies – I and II. Computer applications – I, II and III. Environmental Studies. Research skills for design. Fashion model drawing. Textile analysis. Fundamentals of photography. Design process. Fashion illustration – I. Patternmaking – I. Construction techniques. Dyeing and printing. Advanced photography.

III. Knowledge Gained: Introduction to apparel and textile industry. Cultural studies. Computer applications – I, II and III. Research skills for design. Environmental studies. Textiles – I and II. History of art and art appreciation – Indian and Western. History of costumes – India and World. Introduction to fashion. Textile analysis. Communicating fashion. Fundamentals of photography. Traditional Indian textiles.

IV. Product Development: Computer applications – I, II and III. Material studies – I and II. Fashion model drawing. Design process. Fashion illustration – I. Patternmaking –I. Construction techniques. Dyeing and printing

Based on all the above inputs received during Semesters – I, II and III, each student has to work on an Integrated Design Project. Each student has to design and develop a womenswear ensemble (skirt and top, A-line dress etc.) based on his or her design philosophy, for a well-defined customer profile. The only limitation would be the use of cotton or cotton-like fabrics. Techniques of fabric development (weaving, macramé, crochet etc.) and / or fabric enhancement (dyeing and printing) have to be used to create an exclusive style. The student also needs to accessorize the ensemble to achieve a complete look.

- Each student will work individually on every project
- Based on the latest forecast, each student will identify one trend / theme and list out the related keywords for the same
- Based on the keywords, every student will source four visuals related to the theme
- Using one visual each as inspiration for every project, the student will source appropriate material to work on their surface development concepts
- Using different material, the students will create their surfaces to identify with the selected visual
- The students will document all explorations and stages of work
- Identify appropriate end use in apparel for each developed final concept (four final concepts) and present through appropriate illustrations

The integrated design project should incorporate and integrate the understanding of basic design, elements of design, design process, fashion illustration, pattern making, garments construction, draping and surface ornamentation thereby creating a meaningful correlation and application within the context of fashion. This is done by attempting to evolve an aspired image and then creating a garment, which represents the image for a target customer.

The project will concentrate on encouraging a mature and self-motivated approach towards the final product and completion of work on a creative, original and technically sound either a kids wear or menswear.

Having gained proficiency in earlier skills, the students have also been given more advanced and specific inputs on:

- Concept Development
- Design and development of kids wear and menswear
- Fashion illustration
- Computer Aided Designing

VI. Skills Acquired

- Fashion illustration
- Advanced draping
- Fabric ornamentation

VII. Knowledge Gained

- Quality control in garments
- Production techniques

VIII. Product Development

- Pattern making of kidswear and menswear

Project Methodology

Based on all the above inputs received during all the five semesters, two students are required to work together to conceptualize and develop a mini collection of three kidswear or menswear outfits each (two for kids and one for men or one for kids and two for men). An element of fabric ornamentation to be suitably introduced. The collection should be based on the criteria of:

- Season
- Categories
- Target market
- Customer profile / psychographics (age group, income, attitude etc.)

The students are also required to accessorize the collection to achieve a complete look.

Note: The art work and photographs have to be preserved and digitized for compilation towards the development of the Art Portfolio (Semester VIII).

Learning Outcome

- Be able to plan and produce a menswear and kidswear collection that demonstrates expertise in all methods of construction and knowledge of technical data for structural components, stitch methods, pressing, finishing and presentation
- Be able to evaluate, analyze and summarize the collection through appropriate styling and accessories.
- Develop an ability to produce a two-dimensional portfolio of work that projects the collection theme and exhibits the evolution of the theme and finalization of the product design and developing of kidswear and menswear

COURSE CONTENT

BRIEF

The design collection is the final result of assimilation of all the inputs received during the preceding semesters. It is a creative presentation of the students design capabilities coupled with technical skills. It is an opportunity to realize design potential within the parameter of a time-frame by dedicated research, development and execution of a small, commercial or conceptual collection. This is to be supported by evidence of research, analysis, ideation, conceptualization, effective sourcing, finishing and critical presentation of the theme.

The collection should preferably be targeted towards a specific season, customer profile and price range. It is expected that the students will pursue necessary steps in their design process and its evolution. It should be an independent endeavor of the student with necessary support from the industry and the institute by way of sponsorship and encouragement.

Toiles should be constructed with a high level of insight and understanding of technical specification requirements, showcasing skills in problem identification and solving. Emphasis should be laid on style interpretation and decision making in all aspects of toile making i.e. silhouette, line and proportion, detail and fitting.
Each student's work should concentrate on encouraging a mature and self-motivated approach towards the production of a creative and technically sound fashion collection.

METHODOLOGY

- ☐ Each individual student will develop a full range of 5-8 garments for their final design collection. Each collection should ideally have a target market and could be visualized for a specific occasion from any one of the categories –party wear, clubwear, sportswear, beachwear/resortwear, uniform, casualwear, formalwear etc. for men or women or kidswear with presentation, promotional planning and execution. Ensembles should be suitably accessorized.
- ☐ The students will follow the complete design process of research, concept development, sourcing, prototype development, finishing, accessorizing and presentation.
- ☐ Each student will first select an inspiration from themes like festivals, photographs / paintings, ideology (royalty / mughal / fine living / contemporary lifestyle etc.), emotion (anger / joy / frustration / companionship etc.), current events, architecture or any other. Both the inspiration and the context need not be restrictive since the theme provides for a wide scope ranging from the historical, contemporary to futuristic interpretations and adaptations.
- ☐ They will then conduct indepth research on their selected inspiration and then develop their concept for the collection. The research should have a focus in an aesthetic, technical, visual, marketing or historical point of view and must demonstrate, the integration of knowledge with aspects of the course.
- ☐ Based on the theme, research, analysis and concept, the students will then develop their mood board – two or three dimensional and color board.
- ☐ Next they will develop their fabric board / swatch board with different and appropriate textures, colors, drapability / weight, transparency etc. They can also explore with various fabric development techniques for their fabrics.
- ☐ The students will then develop sketches for garments for their collection (15 – 20).

- ☐ Thereafter they will explore sampling of various seams / finishes / embroideries and other fabric / surface developments for their range of garments
- ☐ Based on the theme and their fabric and sampling explorations, the students will source appropriate material for their collection.
- ☐ Next, develop paper patterns and toile prototypes for the selected garments with proper labelling, instructions and symbols etc. mentioned.
- ☐ Thereafter, they will develop their final finished garments. Attempt a good fit with a clean finish for an impeccable design quality.
- ☐ All garments must be illustrated as accurate working/specification sheets.
- ☐ The students are also required to work out a promotional planning strategy for their collection.
- ☐ Professional photo shoot of each student's collection to be organized
- ☐ At the end of the project, the students will present the complete ensemble with their portfolio of design research and development work. Also submit the technical file and market research report.
- ☐ Final collection of garments to be displayed in a fashion show or well arranged static display which would include
  - ☐ Art portfolio
  - ☐ Research process
  - ☐ Design evolution
  - ☐ Sourcing
  - ☐ Accessories etc.

Institutional Support

- ☐ Strong technical staff support to be provided by the institute
- ☐ Juniors should be attached to the seniors in their final collection work so that they get opportunity to learn and seniors get some support but done with prior briefing what line of work.
- ☐ Practice of redoing should be encouraged to get perfection
- ☐ Lab. Assistants and tutors should not give contradictory information to the students
